

Chase Vacation 2008

Contributed by Chris Nuttall
Monday, 02 June 2008
Last Updated Monday, 02 June 2008

My 2008 Chase Vacation has ended. It was kind of short, but I covered over almost 2500 miles in a week, going from the Texas Panhandle, to Nebraska, to Missouri, to Oklahoma. It will be a few days as I compile the videos and photos and get the chase logs written. There really won't be very much. We kind of busted. Our forecasts were good, but the storms were not. We basically missed things by about a week.

Stay tuned. Maybe there will still be some local stuff in the Texas Panhandle this summer or fall. I can always hope.